THE MORNING AFTER

A Word from the Editor

Volume 11, Issue 6 (#339)

What's up HHKBers?
SO HOT!

Bring your hydration, bring your sunscreen, hide your kids, hide your wives, etc. Keep signing up for Happy Hour Softball! I am going stream of thought here. We're almost to July so the season is moving along quickly, time is flying so make sure you're having as much fun as you possibly can. Make that magic moment happen! Anyway, I'll see you at the Fields tonight and the Barking Dog later to cool down and have a nice tasty, frosty beverage, and to just lay down and chill. Looking forward to chilling with you later!

Check out the HHKB Google Calendar for all your special dates!

Friday, May 19 – Happy Hour Softball registration opens

Want to hit a ball with an aluminum bat? We've got the league for you!

Saturday, June 3 – HHKB Kick Ass Mid Season Party

Free beer and we'll probably be setting up a little early for the Champions League final for all the Soccer heads out there.

Monday, June 26 – Happy Hour Softball Season Kicks Off

It's softball on Monday nights, it's post game fun at The Harp and Fiddle and more quarter bouncing than you can shake a stick out.

Saturday, July 28 – Playoff Day!

We'll crown our 2017 Summer season champ, bring your A game!

Saturday, July 28 – HHKB Kick Ass End of the Season Party

Free rail booze, awards, trophies and tears!

Weather Delays/Cancellations

In the case of bad weather, the website will be updated by 5:30 pm, the day of the game as will the Twitter feed, and the Facebook Page. All cancellations will be decided on at the field of play.

Forfeit Policy

Only really occur if you have less than 4 people, this will be very difficult to accomplish, so we don't think this should be an issue.

All Alone...
By Tony H

I knew it would be a tough game against Bobby's team when only two girls showed up. But we did what we do when we are short-handed, we won the game. We eked out a victory 3-2 with the game winning run kicked by Felipe in the top of the 6th. Then, our stud 3rd basemen got all 3 outs in the bottom of the 6th. By stud, I mean our backup 3rd basemen, Brandon. I can't say that we played our best game, but we did enough. Defensively, we held our own. It's hard to shutout their team with only 6 in the field. This definitely was a pitcher's duel. Who knows, maybe, we'll play them again for a third time this season.

It's always good to have hope Red, it may be the best thing. That said, if you play them again it's going to be in the playoffs and that could be an epic finals, or round 2 game. I don't like to get ahead of myself for if I did, well I'd probably hurt myself, or you or both of us. Lesson learned, stay away from all people at all times.

Half Toned, no more.
By Chris B

TONE, it's got an expiration apparently. You can tone out for one game, but a double header, no such luck. At that point the tone is gone. First game, good tone, second game the tone had fizzled like the wick on a bomb in some sort of movie to create more drama. Jeremy did not win survivor and the world slowly righted itself I suppose. Perhaps that's how Jeremy won Survivor the week before, the earth was slightly askew and as a result, cups they did flip. Honestly, I prefer to think we entered a parallel dimension and in that moment, that singularity we all saw something...
Tone is back this week, Tone, Toni, Tony, in your facey.

Hump Day Camels

Scary dungeon
By Mike J

Another week, another win...is what I look forward to (Manny) writing in here one day. But for now the Grasskickers will gladly enjoy the one win we just got over the Hump Day Camels. Credit to Dickson for a great play that belied his age (29, right?), and even more so to Sampson for an incredible split second diving catch, but my crew came ready to play. When they were in the field, they communicated perfectly and vacuumed up almost everything- despite Eliot likely getting concussed in the 2nd inning. (Hey Commissioner, do we have a concussion protocol?) And when at bat, they showed marked improvement from the prior few weeks. So watch out HHKB, once we get all our new people fully acclimated, we'll be coming for you...and then likely telling you to watch out for a point farther in the future when we will then be coming for you.

We'll have to be right eventually...right? Thanks to Leigh and Biz for reffing. And maybe Hunter too, but I don't know cause all "you people" look alike to me.

And yes, Leigh, by you people I was referring to (Commissioner's note: the end of this sentence had to be deleted). Next up for us is our double header which begins with a rematch against Bobby's father's wiener. Considering it's going to be a hot one, I expect him to sweat through 3-4 of his pitching towels. And hopefully we'll kick so well that he also has to dry off a stream running down his leg (that's the real reason for his towels), but if not, there's always another week with a chance for another win.

I promised Chris a picture of my scary basement bathroom that he mentioned last week so that he could show you all what he was referring to. Apparently I lied. But I'm subbing in for Manny again next week, so there's another chance for me to give you all nightmares, and for Hilary to beg you to agree with her that I should get rid of the creepy pictures. Tony, you might be able to get her to stop trying to hug you if you tell her you'll take her side...but you might want to hire protection just in case that doesn't work.

Bobby has a fancy cloth for drying things and is also the focus of two newsletter entries. Bobby is your new Dan Holloman. Men want to be him, ladies want to be with him, men want to be with him, and ladies well I've covered them already. But seriously, Mike lives in a horror movie. I've not seen Saw but if it's anything like Mike's basement, well that would be something.

Weekly Awards

The Billy D Williams Smooth Play of the Week Award goes to Stephen, for not getting to first on a ball kicked to deep left field, somehow...

The BOOM Goes the Dynamite Award goes to Jonathan who made a very nice sliding catch.

The Sticky Icky Buds Hands of the Week Award goes to Brandon for shutting it all down.

The Barry Badrinath Award for Best Beer Gaming goes to the Lauer Hobo team for the fastest championship ever.

The Big League Chew Award for Big Kick goes to Sammy for some strong kicks and strong runs.

The Frank the Tank Award for Best Boozing goes to the Juice for dominating survivor flip cup.

Summer Softball is Coming...

Come play Softball on Monday night in Bethesda and then hang out at Harp and Fiddle to test your abilities on the Pathe Fake Marble Slab of Champions!

Oh and softball of course...

HHKB Team Flip Cup Rules

Teams of 2 players face off against each other by taking shooting pong balls at your standard 10 cup triangle (in round 1, down to 6 in subsequent rounds) at each end of the table.

The first team to knock all 10/6 cups out of the game wins that round and plays the next team in their bracket. Points are given out to the top 3 finishing teams each week.

Each team's first game is against the team they played in cornhole that week. Players can be switched after each game but not during.

Note, teams that play cornhole at 8:15 are expected to have players for beer pong at the Barking Dog by 7:30 pm to get their first round games in.

HHKB Survivor Flip Cup Rules

Every week following team beer pong we will set up 4 tables with 4 cups in the form of a diamond on either end of each table.

Everyone in play then sets up at the 4 tables with everyone in a line on one side of the table.

Round 1 begins with each person throws a pong ball towards the diamond at the other end, if you hit your shot, you walk over take your drink and start the line of those who have advanced to round 2 on the opposite side, just retrieving balls at that point. Should you miss your shot, you go back to the end of the line to try again. Round 1 will continue in this fashion until each table gets down to the final four at each table, who are then eliminated. To ensure fairness, in each round every player will take the same amount of shots to get to the final four.

Everyone not eliminated then gets back in line and round 2 starts and continues the exact same way round 1. The rounds continue until we have a final 8 who then move to one table and work to get to the top 5 in the same way that the previous rounds occurred. Final person standing wins that week's points.

Top 5 finishers receive points each week and the winner gets one point for their team's overall Beer Pong standings.
