

HHDB Tip of the Week

Look out for flying balls, not just in dodge-ball, but all ball related sports...and in prison.

The Morning After...

Winter 2010 March 10, 2010

Well this is a day late and you know who you can blame don't you?
One obvious choice would be the editor, but I think that would be less than satisfying, no, you should blame the people of Florida. Why Florida? Well it seemed to work well for everyone in 2000, why would it be any different a decade later?
Anyway, we've got a bowling recap as well as a dodgeball recap, how exciting is that?

Metro Crawl is this weekend and the playoffs in dodgeball start next week...it's an important and fun time to be alive no?

Later!

Wednesday, February 3, 2010—Happy Hour Kickball Summer Registration opens up! For the fourth summer in a row we will be kicking it around Meadowbrook.

Saturday, March 13, 2010—The 2nd Annual HHKB/HHDB/HHB Red Line Crawl! We'll start in Bethesda and then head down the red line all day and see how far we get. We made it all the way to Faragut North last year, can we get all the way to Gallery Place this year, I hope so. For those participating, we'll be doing shirts again this year, but a hooded sweatshirt in case it rains, or is a little chilly! Evite for this event is coming soon!

Tuesday, March 30, 2010—Happy Hour Kickball night out with The Caps part 2! Tix are $46 and we need to lock this down right now! If you are interested be sure to RSVP to the Ning Page, let CB know, or email happyhourkickball@gmail.com as soon as is humanly possible!

Wednesday, April 14, 2010—Happy Hour Kickball season 4 kicks off that evening with scrimmages and then after party at the Barking Dog, as usual!

Rainouts—We won't have rainouts this season, but we could have snow outs, freezing rain outs and possibly ice outs. Be sure to check out our Twitter feed, and your email should this go down. Also, look out your window!

Referees—The two teams with late games will provide 2 reffs each for the early games.

Forfeit Policy— There are no forfeits in dodgeball, just quicker losses potentially.

This Week's Game Recaps

Oh Yessss

by Jason Yang and Friends

Not much from the peanut gallery this week:

- Co-MVPs were Bobby and Ellen. Ellen for stepping up in a one on one against a mean nasty boy and catching his ball (with her hands) that tied us up at two apiece. Bobby for his last man standing final game showdown against Charlie in a one on one and emerging the victor to seal the victory. Both matches against this team have been won/ loss by one game so it's been pretty fun.
- Charlie (from their team) says he has no idea where we're going to throw.
- "I... am [most definitely] not left-handed"
- Ken's insane dodging drew oohs and ahs from even the other team.
- Shakti was on a rampage with the catching and the throwing.
- Billy likes soda...
- Mrs. Libby's car is green...

Final Score: Balls of Steel 9—Tropic Thunder 8

Well this time We made it Close!

by Chris B

Dodgeball like many things is all trial and error, and while season 1 has been more error than winning for Throwbo Cop we have learned a lot that we plan to implement by season 14. If nothing else we have a very clever name that I really feel is just fantastic.

Last week in the space, we rambled about stuff and many of you (i.e. no one) asked how we made it a whole week without anyone getting injured. Great question, well we did by pure luck I suppose, because this past week, we were right back into the getting hurt business. Come on down Jayne!

As you can see from the picture, Jayne broke her pinky finger and tore some ligaments, all in the name of dodgeball. Needless to say the fact that Jayne continually gets hurt shows that the league is aware that she is our best player and are just attempting to take her out. Hopefully in this space next week we don't have an obituary....

Anyway, thanks to our reffs, they were great and just as a reminder Dan Holloman and Nick Robb are available for all your party needs...I'll let you think on that!

Final Score: Throwbo Cop 4—Uncle Jesse's Balls 6

This Week's Bowling Recap

Three Beautiful Detectives Posing as Bowlers ... What More Could A Man Want? by Charlie

How can you not love Charlie's Angels? Ignore the cheesy plot line and focus on the three beautiful young ladies working as private detectives ... in a bowling league!

These gorgeous provocatively dressed angels are Jill Monroe [Ali Crawford], Sabrina Duncan [Nui Dhepyasuwan], and Jaclyn Kelly Garrett [Joanna Foucheaux]. They are guided by their boss, the faceless man behind the scenes Charlie Townsend [The Playmaker].

Each week the girls happened to go undercover on cases which required them to strip down in places such as health-spas, holiday camps, and even bowling alleys. They use their seductive (and detective) skills to bring down the bad guys.

Jill attributes the show's success to this simple fact "When the show was number three, I figured it was our acting. When it got to be number one, I decided it could only be because of our enormous sex appeal". If you look hot who cares if you can fight crime or if you can bowl.

Kelly was the one who always seemed to want to look good and to score. It was the scoring that mattered most to her. She started off as the #1 female in the league after the first week but her skills have tampered off as her hotness has grown.

In contrast, Sabrina was always the party girl. After week #1 she was third from last, but all she carried about was capturing the bad guys while acting like the bad girl.

However, it was always Charlie who reigned in the girls and keep them focused on the task at hand ... looking HOTT and having fun!

The Word from Deon, God of Dodgeball

All of you are so happy that spring is coming. It sickens me. The days are getting longer. Boo. I prefer the darkness. One little 50 degree day and all of you people climb out of your pathetic little hovels and take over the land-scape like acne on a teenager's face.

How I long for the days of the blizzard when the only thing restricting my movement was me and my ability to turn in to a slide. Now there are people everywhere, with the explicit purpose of getting in my way. This past Sunday I went to Trader Joe's in the middle afternoon to procure my daily case of 2 buck chuck. Which I think is 4 dollars now. Anyway. I walk in, and the place is just one long line. One perfect, complete, unbroken serpentine. I believe you were in line to checkout the moment you walked in the door, and it was while standing in this line that you accumulated all the humus and crap you would end up buying. It was insane. Shouldn't you people be out hiking or, well, I don't think you do anything else, so, shouldn't you people be out hiking? WHY AREN"T YOU HIKING?!?!?

My tax dollars are going to waste if there is not the constant pitter-patter of Tevas all along the C&O Canal Trail. Ok, that's not true. I don't pay taxes. But I do get a tax return. How about that? Only a measly $300 bucks this year though. Boo. Anyway, there were way too many people in Trader Joe's so I put my little hand basket type thing back in the stack. How dainty is that thing by the way? I can barely resist the urge to skip and swing it back and forth when I am holding an empty one. Perhaps don a bonnet. I thought to myself, "I will return later this evening, when you yuppies are preparing for your Oscar Viewing Parties or Anti-Oscar Viewing Parties and Trader Joe's will be abandoned!"

And so I did, just after darkness. It wasn't abandoned. But it was much less crowded. Hello Darkness. My Old Friend. And then I tried to remember the rest of the lyrics. And I couldn't. And then all the words I couldn't think of were replaced by the word "Meep" so I end up with a rendition of "The Sound of Silence" as sung by Beaker of the Muppets. Soon, I, Deon, will retire to the underworld for the remainder of the spring and summer. I usually head back the first week in April at the latest. I have to make sure that all my brackets are complete and utter failures first. And that usually happens during the first weekend, so its a rarity that I get to see April. Cleveland State!?!? Really, Wake Forest? You couldn't get past Cleveland State?!?!? No, I am not over it. Welcome to my own personal hell. Did you know they show movies in my own personal hell? Would you like to know what those movies are? Hope Floats and Practical Magic. I've seen them both. In a theater. I got no action during either one. What a waste. I cannot believe Sandra Bullock won an Oscar. First sign of the apocalypse. Mark my word. After all, I am Deon. I know these sorts of things.

Меер.

Lessons Learned from a Night Out

Lesson #1: Don't bring up Monocle's In a Conversation with Crazy Drunk Girls

I probably could have shortened this lesson to don't talk to crazy drunk girls but if I made up that rule no unattractive person would ever have sex. So let's stick to the lesson I learned. When out drinking with friends it is perfectly acceptable to make up stoto the lesson I learned. When out drinking with friends it is perfectly acceptable to make up stories to get women to talk to you. I figure if the police are allowed to lie during interrogation of criminals I'm allowed to lie to extract a number from a girl.

However, don't let your friend make up the fact that you wear a monocle, or that you didn't wear one about because all of your friends think that monocle looks stupid on you. Apparently this statement immediately activates the mothering/nurturing instincts in a crazy girl. Add alcohol to the mix and you have a 10 minute lecture about being a stronger person and being comfortable with yourself. Don't listen to your friends. Wear that Monocle out and the girl who likes that monocle? Well she is the girl who was meant for you because she likes you the way you are.

I've never been more scared in my life. This girl was ready to kill my friend who was blamed for not liking my imaginary monocle. Who knew a little lie could cause so much drama! Now I know your asking yourself, Marty, you're a manly man how could you just sit there and let this girl go off on you for 10 minutes. How could you let your friends take a verbal tongue lashing when they had done nothing wrong? Why didn't you simply walk away? My answer to you, she was super hot, so hot I was wondering if I could deal with the crazy for one night.

Lesson #2: Don't question the music selection of unusually tall women.

When out with your friends another perfectly acceptable technique to get women to talk to you is to challenge them. Tell them you don't like something they like. If she's game she is going to want to engage in a debate over her perfectly stupid choice and tell you why you're wrong. The ball is rolling and then you can take the conversation to things you agree about (like monocles). The caveat to this maneuver is make sure this girl couldn't start as a small forward on the New York Knicks. Anyone woman that tall is used to getting her way and solving arguments with her hands not with her brain.

My friend walked right into this trap the other night. He told an amazon woman that he did not like her music selection with the DJ. She could have told him to buzz off. No this gigantess' diplomatic solution was to wrap her large sloth like hand completely around my friend's face and mouth. It was very reminiscent to the beginning scene in Alien when the face hugger alien plants it's egg down the throat of John Hurt. Even down to the fear in my friends eyes. After a minute of telling him to change his mind or she was going to break out the noogy sandwhich she let him go. Have to say at the time it was the funniest thing i had seen in my life. It was eclipsed though when 15 minutes later when I asked her to palm his face one more time before we left.

I'm sure there were many other lessons I learned from the night. I think I remember something about don't talk about 1 legged women because one could be propped up next to you. And if someone ask you if you like Harry Potter you say YES! But to be honest my brain is to hazy on those lessons to really have learned anything I can share with you. Have a good day,

Zabava

HHKB Fantasy Basketball Advice

Well in the Fall we filled this space with advice on who to start and sit in your weekly fantasy football life as that seems to be the most popular. But, fantasy runs year round, so during the dodgeball season we will give you a weekly primer on how to win your fantasy basketball league and I should know, considering the fact that I came in 3rd once in 2005. So away we go! Oh, and if you use this info to win your league, and do well, then it's clear, I am a genius, if you lose, it's got to be something with you I bet!

Must Start	Must Sit
John Albers – I saw this guy play on Tuesday, and if you think there isn't at least one Wizard on that team worse than him, you're a liar.	Bill Simmons – He's kind of an idiot no?
Luis Scola – One, he's got a coolish name, sounds like a drink, two he actually is playing really well.	Wilford Brimley – With the 'betes he can't handle the rock like he used to.
Keith Hernandez – He's not a bball player, but hell, he's Keith Hernandez!	Mike Dunleavy Jr or Sr – These guys just aren't good

Pie Chart of the Week

The Morning After... Page 10 www.happyhourkickball.com

Happy Hour Horoscopes

Every week, we will give you a look into your future as we consult the stars...welcome to Happy Hour Horoscopes!

Aries— This Saturday the boyscouts will look to you for guidance and direction, but you're just as lost as they are.

Taurus—After this Friday night, your being will be separated into two parts, the lower half and the upper half after that bear fight you started.

Gemini—It's not the turkey that's making you sleepy, it's the endless amount of hours you spend watching hardcore Antarctic porn that's stopping you from getting any sleep.

Cancer— You will again embarrass yourself and friends when you attempt to break the Guinness world record for days without pants on.

Leo—Love is in the air for Leo, too bad it's not in your bed where you really need it.

Virgo—If I were you, I would stay away from the zoo on March 14th, the cough you have has a strong resemblance to the mating call of the polar bear.

 $\Omega$  Libra—What once was now is, and what is once was, and who was they and they were who. Get that, 'cause I don't.

Scorpio—Barcode labeling of babies at birth is an idea you've had, but they squirm too much.

Sagittarius—You will enter the realm of twitter and be sorely disappointed when no one meets you out but to be fair, your friends have jobs.

Capricorn— The stars will get back to predicting your future right after this commercial, they swear!

Aquarius—All attempts at getting you to settle down will end in a fight you can't win, mostly because you weigh 85 lbs and Hulk Hogan isn't into wasting his free time on you.

Pisces—I feel sorry for you but then I look at your kids and I re-evaluate that statement.
