What up HHKBers?

So, it's been a while since I rapped at ya! I know you were in delightfully soft and giving hands, those of John and Marty, hopefully you gave them the appropriate response.

We're coming up on the final weeks, but we've got so much stuff going on in the coming weeks and new year that you'll be chock a bock full of HHKB/LFS events.

Caps game this Tuesday, check. Dodgeball in January, Beer OH Lympics, and HHKB's 5th official birthday, where you will see pictures of our birth in a disgusting slide show.

For now, enjoy this NL and be sure to touch the important parts...

Enjoy the hell out of this Newsletter,
Chris, John and Marty

Actual and Factual News that we did NOT make up!

Check out the HHKB Google Calendar for all your special dates!

November, 2011—Happy Hour Dodgeball registration opens online! Can you believe it? Games are Thursdays starting in January at Champions Field House in Rockville, cost is $65 a player. Interested in starting a team, hit us up and let us know!

Tuesday, November 1—HHKB Night out with the Caps We're heading back down to DC to rock the red, presumably and watch the Caps kick ass. Tix are sold out.

Saturday, November 5—Playoff Day
It's playoff day people, the day all those weeks of kickball led to, time to win that championship. Will the Booty repeat, or will someone else take the title?

Saturday, November 5—Kick Ass End of the Season Party at the Barking Dog
The party kicks off at 7pm and runs until whenever you want it to. The open bar however will cease at 11pm. Trophies, certs and booze, what could be better?!

Saturday, January 28—The Beer OHlympics! Let me know if you want to start a team and get ready for so much beer gaming fun your head will spin.

Rainouts

In the case of a rainout, the website will be updated by 9:30 am, the day of the game as will the Twitter feed, the Facebook Page and the Weather line (202-415-2843). If the rainout occurs after 9:30 am, the division heads will contact captains, or the appointed contact persons, and it will be the captains' responsibility to inform their respective teams. Of course our specials at the Barking Dog will still be honored.

Referees

Each must provide a referee, either for the 10:30 am game if you are playing at 11:15 am or for the 11:15 am game if you are playing at 10:30 am. Failure to provide a referee will count as a forfeit.

Forfeit Policy

Only really occur if you have less than 4 people, this will be very difficult to accomplish, so we don't think this should be an issue.

HHKB Fantasy Advice

Everyone plays a fantasy sport of some kind nowadays, and since we are a part of "everyone" we will be giving you advice on who to start and who to sit this Summer. So check out our picks for this week's MLB and MLS!

Must Start	Must Sit
DC – This city just kicks ass, period.	SD – That place was not warm and my hotel was bro central.
Team Quick Step Lotto – A new super team with super riders.	Team Leopard Shack – Anew merged team of what the hell?
Texas Rangers – They are going to win and celebrate with the yey...	St. Louis Cardinals – Good bye Albert Pujols!
Boise State – Not angling to get in the Big 12, smart!	WVU/Louisville – You guys are both mental to want into that mess.

Oh Yeehaw!
By Justin S

DCOMB somehow managed to piss-off all of the Gods this week, Leon, Deon, Beon and even Keon. Keon is the God of keys, opener of doors, master of front-door entry (and back-door for that matter).

- Leon smote us through NKOTB, 9-4. The game was kind of like this:

- Deon prevented us from assembling our epic Dodgeball Team, Balcanic Eruption.

- Beon won't let us get points in Team FC.

- And Keon... what a mess. Listen to this!

Matias came to the game late. Not a problem, I'm glad he came (that what she said?). After our game ended, he realized that he lost his car key. Not his keys, his car key; a single key. We looked all over for it during the whole second game. Then out of nowhere, Awesome Grasskicker Dude & Awesome Grasskicker Chick showed up with a metal detector. They just had it in their car! They turned around to head home and found the key on another field. WTF?! Right place, right time I suppose.

I hope you enjoyed the pretty pictures. Felt like senior year of high school all over again with those picture books. Next week I promise more age regression with pop-up pictures and push-button sounds. Although I'm sure some of you pop-up nightly and others make sounds when their buttons are pushed right.

Once you reach a certain age there are things you do and need to have. One of them is eating at Cracker Barrel at 3pm for dinner, Mall Walks at 6am for exercise and owning a metal detector. Seriously. I'm glad the league is no full circle on age, we've got oldies, youngies and Martyrs. I just had to rhyme that up. I hope Matias found his key, but if he didn't he could certainly use that metal detector to smash his car open and then live in it. Because come on, you don't want to leave a smashed up car unattended. If Kramer was on Matias, he would have lost 7000 keys.

“The Letter G”

By Jessica F

Interesting Sunday to say the least. Our morning started bright and early with kicking practice over at Maplewood park, don't think it really helped much but it was a start! When we got to the fields I was informed the yellow team didn't provide a ref and as I was about to inform them of the rule but insist we play anyways I was interrupted by Justin “Kanye” Scott.

I think the conversation went something like this:

Jessica: Hey guys, technically you didn't provide a ref so...

JScotty: I'm really happy for the grasskickers...but you sound stupid. Chip is the best captain of all time that enforces the rules! Who actually enforces the rules!

Jessica: F* you JScotty.

Okay so maybe I didn't handle the situation great but at least the yellow team offered to forfeit and still play a friendly game – although I'm not sure how friendly it was! It was definitely fun though – with all the trash talking it was a shame it didn't actually count and if Mr. Kanye had let me finished I would have said let's play anyways – I mean really who wants to get up at 9am to not play kickball? The Grasskickers for one would have been pissed. But a friendly game we had and the Funkytown Allstars kicked our butts so maybe it was good it didn't really count? Although they did play with 6 or 7 guys on the field and 1 girl so was it really fair?

There were some other exciting Grasskicker highlights from that game as well:

- Gio's catch off of a tipped ball from Charlene.
Charlene was just trying to show off, I'm pretty sure she and Gio planned that awesome act.
- My cousin not only has a vicious tennis scream (you know the one) but made two runs for the Grasskickers! Go Aaron!

- Brandon made a super awesome catch running out into foul territory. Pretty nice Tank!

The only highlight from after the bar that I was asked to mention is when the Hailwood brothers dominated in Landing Strip against the two awesome and beautiful Jessica's. Seriously though, Jessica and I were on a role – we beat out HHKB players from 2 different teams until our own teammates stepped up to plate – it was still fun though. Next week we play James Lauer and his cool kids. I'm dominating him in Hanging with Friends – if you don't know what that is or not playing then you don't know what real fun is. Luckily the Grasskickers DO know fun – and I'm pretty sure we got this game too but we shall see!

Laura and I decided to have our teams do something to their heads. I know that sounds odd but it's Halloween weekend so players bring it! There will be wigs, masks, hats, face paint, hair dye, anything you can think of to do to your head will be accepted. Minds out of the gutter please. It should be an awesome day.

And while this is probably the shortest recap I've ever written I have to end this on a good note – Thanks to all who made this season possible – it's been a fun one.
Happy Kicking!

I like when things work out, even if they work out in a somewhat off way. But I guess that's how people have successful children right? One night humping away in the back of a firebird and then 20 years later, John Stockton pops out and happily buys you a house, as I assume that is how it works when you have a successful athlete for a child. Unless that child is Shaq who will write a song about how biological is not his father, regardless of what the paternity test would indicate.

Sunday Ballin' Sunday 0

That was a Load Bearing Candy Cane You Oaf!

By Andrew M

Alright we won 8-0 on the strength of a big first inning, some well-placed kicks and solid fielding. That's about as technical as I'm willing to get. Steph got run over, which seems to happen just about every week (I guess second base is the most dangerous position), Jessie made a nice diving catch, and there was a multitude of ignored "got its" by our team (including the last out of the game where it was popped up to Justin and Eric jumped in front of him from third to take it despite Justin calling for it...priceless). We yelled, made fun of each other, laughed at the changeup, Greg did Greg things... all the standard stuff, only this week we actually had a few people show up to the bar.

On to the bar, where I finally discovered the Slap Cup game that has been sweeping the nation (or league). Very solid game, it's basically Knockout without redemption. Lesson one learned from this game: if you say you want to drink more, people are more than happy to oblige. Also on Sunday I had to run back and forth from upstairs to downstairs to watch the Bears game, and I re-discovered the age-old adage that drinking and running do not mix well. Way too much sloshing going on. I'd like to think I learned something, but I'm sure I'll forget this again on Halloween (about a 95% chance I'll be dressed as Charlie Brown so I gotta do the football bit at least once).

So it occurred to me that I mistakenly referred to Candy Cane Park as Candy Cane Island a few recaps ago. I was going to make amends (by breaking a candy cane, how else?), but then I realized that Candy Cane Island is an infinitely better idea than Candy Cane Park. I mean, what sort of person would not rather go to an island than a park? And when you figure that there's a 50% chance that the island is literally made out of candy canes, it gets all the more obvious. If you're wondering, the other 50% is the chance that Candy Cane Island is an ironic nickname and it's actually home to some sort of multi-colored monster.

I wrote that last part Friday at work (throwing off your timeline here, I know), then looked at the sign on Sunday and realized it's actually called Candy Cane City. Now I'm torn. While Candy Cane Island is undoubtedly a great idea, there's no denying Candy Cane City also has great potential. Red and white striped buildings bring to mind another great Simpsons quote, appropriately from one of the Treehouse of Horrors. You know the one, when they do the Hansel & Gretel parody and Homer breaks in and starts eating the witch's house. He bites into a big candy cane and the witch goes, "That was a load-bearing candy cane, you oaf!" Yes I love that show.

Alright on the next week, a matchup with another yellow team, the Funky Town All-Stars. Don't know much about this team, just that they are apparently the best Funky Town has to offer. Being a white guy I have no idea how to get to Funky Town (I could play some funky music for you if you'd like, though), so not sure what to make of that. You know who could probably help increase my funk levels? That's right, RuPaul. Had to get him (her?) in here somehow.

Game Recap...

By Heather W

They scored 7 of their 8 runs in the first inning, so SBS will now be referred to as "One Bad Inning" (OBI) or "We Might Actually Win or at Least Not Suck So Bad if We Don't Count the First Inning" (WMAWOALNSSBIWDCTFI). So, just focusing on the defense in the remaining innings, SBS looked pretty good out there. Kurt was sharp on the mound, with a 'did he catch it/did he not catch it??' move that prompted him to run the guy down and nail him with the ball. Becky, Rena, Rob and Kristin managed to catch a few balls and get a little dirty in the process. And Avi ran all the way from center field to 3rd base to tag someone out. Plus, Kristin was a Venus Fly Trap (including this reference seemed fitting for Halloween) at first!

What we can not do on the field, we make up for with beer games. Sarah, Laura, Carrie, and Rob ended up 3rd in the tournament. Sarah ended up with another top 10 finish and a strong finish by Rob in survivor.

On a serious note, I agree that second base is the most dangerous position in kickball. You'd think it wouldn't be. In fact, you'd think no position would be dangerous (other than spread eagle), since, it's, you know, KICKBALL, but the way second basemen get rolled up on, you'd think Pete Rose was trying to break up a double play, after having wagered on the game. At this rate, someone should be developing a knock-off board game of Candyland called Candy Cane Island. You know, like how they have generic Fruit Loops, called Fruit Circles? It'd be like that. But a board game. Also, I think a candy cane would be a good murder weapon. Think about how sharp it gets after sucking on the end . . .anyway. So many acronyms. Venus Fly Trap = VFT. VFTshop.com actually sells venus fly traps, including a variety called Red Piranha. Frightening. You know what else makes a good acronym? Direct Input Limited Duty Officer. Sounds stuck up, to me. Other good acronyms include CREAM, HNIC, OPP and DTF. I believe Kurt was the only person who wasn't sure if he caught that ball or not. Nothing like a gratuitous pegging, unless it's by a Direct Input Limited Duty Officer.

In One Ear, Out Your Mother 3

Murphy's Law: Drink More Juice 2

Sometimes it's just fun to be argumentative
By Chris and Cheryl

This past week In One Ear and Out Your Mother played and frolicked in the Juice, that sweet, sweet intoxicating juice. The kind that gets all over you in a non sticky way and doesn't ruin your day, mmmmmmmmm sticky.....

Anyway, Budweiser Mike led the team as the co captains were out exploring the fun of Halloween parties two weeks early and working in San Diego, which much like a whale's vagina isn't any fun, especially when there is blood involved. Plus it's cold.

BM led the group with class and ease (which should be KY Jelly's new motto), though he could not control the massive ego on Bruckheim (which should be Trojan's new motto). That man loves himself some him (which could be any battery operated device's new motto). He does not invite you to do the same, for to look him in the eye would result in quite the thrashing (which could be your mom's new motto). Lauren doesn't care for your foul call, reff (and that's why she is our starting catcher), and know your place sir or madame (again, we weren't there). Melissa does and does not have it, but either way she'll let you know. Constant communication people...that's the key to making sure you're doing it with class and ease while loving yourself and thinking about your mom, all while hanging out in a whale's vagina.

At the bar, the team took care of business Le Tigre style on team flippy cup, the team of Marty, Nick et al were dominant and nude, or not, again, still wasn't there. There was also running up and down steps, which led to no one breaking a thumb, so we're all winners. In the end we had fun and you all enjoyed our company...right?!

Is sticky good or bad?

If you ask "Is the Pope Catholic?" when you are certain of something, then you should ask "Is a Whale's Vagina Cold?" when you are uncertain. Because, well, is it? What if it's a tropical whale? I bet it's steamy. And cavernous. Whoever won the stair competition shall hence forth be known as the Stair Master.

The James Lauer Team for Kids Who Can't Play Kickball Good 1

James does have Purpes

By The Playmaker

Ah ... The James Lauer Team

against Hot Booty bursting at the seam,

You showed tons of class

and you ran really fast,

We scored several runs in the first on a double, a single, and a quick burst,

We took the 3-0 lead

and that was all we would need,

Superior pitching and defense by the Booty Shakers

despite the first error by the Playmaker,

James could barely get to second base

the Booty would only give him a taste,

In the end offense ruled the day

as The Booty made play after play,

At the bar, The James Lauer Team wouldn't play two on two they needed four to beat two ... who knew?

Lex Steele and the Playmaker went up quickly two to one and many thought James Lauer was done, but they rallied to win in five and keep their flip cup dreams alive,

A great day was had by all with The James Lauer Team we had a ball!

Team Lightning is the next team we dominate there is no other fate!

*I feel as a recapper of this poetry, I should respond in kind.
Here is my poetry, I'd call it rap but that would be embarrassing:*

*James has purpes, that it is true,
One can get them from sex, usually after sniffing glue
The Booty scores and scores a lot,
For some the weather can be too hot
This poem sucks, I'm shutting it down
Enjoy my stopping and don't start Josh McCown.*

Now that's a level of terrible that can't be eclipsed, suck it Shakespeare!

*Playoffs and Kick Ass End of the Season Party are Next Week!
Here are some pics from previous days like this to whet your appetite...*

The Word from Bacchanaleon, God of Kickball

I'm Leon, the good of Kickball. Now give me some candy! Good day, minions.

All Hallows' Eve is nearly upon us, and, of course, this means lots of candy. And who doesn't like candy? You're old buddy Leon sure does. And I'd love to show you just how much I like candy. If you slip a butterfinger up my hershey highway, I'm pretty much guaranteed to pop pocks. Just for swirling a tootsie roll around in your mouth, I'll give you a up close and personal milky way experience.

Girl, you've got mounds that just won't quit, they make me want to get on my knees and flick your chiclet until you feel a gusher coming on. By the way, do you have anything against a rusty toblerone? Just say the word and you can be my sugar baby, and Leon will be your sugar daddy. Don't ever doubt my love of candy! And Halloween in general is a pretty good holiday. It's hard to argue with any occasion that justifies revealing outfits quite as much as Halloween does.

So, so many different kinds of stockings. How's a girl to choose. Let's have a fashion show. I'd be more than happy to help you decide. Anyway, minions, enjoy your Halloween. And don't skimp on the candy, or I will encourage my ever so little minions to commit credit card fraud against you or something. I dunno, what kind of pranks do miscreants pull these days? So go slut it up and ghoulish it up to your heart's content. And if you're still trying to decide on a last-minute costume, I've got an idea: You be a pumpkin and I'll be Peter.

Follow Leon on Twitter for more wisdom in bite sized format, here!

Words from your Editors

It's that time of year again! A time when you are shoved in a room with half strangers. They all look a little strange in their festive costumes. One of them is most likely creepy that you question if they are a pedophile or some kind of sexual deviant. Another looks like a murderer, especially if you say the wrong thing. On the table is an impressive spread. The a disemboweled animal, jell-o forms with fruit floating in it that looks more like some kind of worm food. Vegetables mashed to look like brains. At some point so much alcohol will be consumed so that you can get comfortable around all these people the potential for a fight is eminent. That's right it's Thanksgiving time!!

Thanksgiving truly is the greatest Holiday the US of A has ever created. We take two days off for food! The Wednesday before Thanksgiving is the biggest night in the year to hit up the local bars. For the life of me I don't understand how this holiday is taking a backseat to Halloween. Halloween and Christmas are essentially to Holidays for children. I get why people enjoy Christmas, everyone likes getting gifts and trying to fake that the Christmas spirit lives inside them. But Halloween? Free candy? Playing dress up? Not being allowed to show up to a party unless you participate like everyone else? That sounds so fascist to me. Yet if you show up to the Party in full Hitler gear somehow you get in trouble? That guy was way more scary the Luigi and Mario but those two Italian plumbers with mystical powers to transform into anything like like by jumping on a block are acceptable! (that is kinda cool, but i would want to transform into invisible powers not fireball powers). But I digress, Halloween while like Christmas is mainly for kids. However, it's even worse! At least when Christmas rolls around those kids are inside playing with their new toys or video games or passed out from waking up at 4 am. No on Halloween those little ankle biters are roaming the streets at the same time I am. I don't want you damn kid in my way looking for candy when i'm stumbling around drunk in Hitler gear. It's just going to lead to questions i don't want to answer!

in closing was it necessary that I bring Hitler into this column? No. But I did it because I've been flipping by too much Fox news lately and that name get's spouted out every five seconds. I guess subliminal messages do work!

Trick or treat Bitches
I'm out!

The History of HHKB Invented Beer Games

The Beer Relay circa 2007

In the past, HHKB has played and invented many drinking games, it's true, more than any other league in the entire Kickball World. Why you would be wondering or considering the outside kickball world confuses me however.

First off there was the Beer Relay, this is a Beer OH

Lympics Staple and combines all the skills one would need if they were to have a beer gaming interview. It includes Flip Cup, You Got Served, Pong and Chugging a Pitcher and to top it off, the Beer Bong of Doom. All skills a well rounded drinker needs.

Then there was Drink Flip Run. Drink Flip Run requires four tables, and a cup for each person running around said tables at each table. You and three (or 7 if you're playing team Drink, Flip, Run) start off at different table, once the bell rings you drink your cup, flip it and then head over to the next table and do this 4 times until a winner finishes first. The first version had four total cups around the inside of each table. This was then changed to 8 as the outside of the tables were included. Finally, it was taken up another level with the inclusion of a relay race where teammates drank a cup, and tagged a waiting partner at each table, this included 4 cups per person.

Drink-Flip-Run, circa Fall 2007

Then there was Flong. Flong was invented due to a lack of beer, and small cups. It combines the best of Flip Cup and Pong. You get to flip a cup and to throw a pong ball into a pyramid as well, including rebuttals, picking and pointing.

The Survivor Board of Champs

Eventually a full cup faceoff comes about and everyone smiles.

During the Summer of 2009, the Board of Champions came about. The Board was incorporated into our Weekly Survivor match, that pitted as many people as we could around the tables. The Board requires skill and a steady hand, the steady hand is usually the tricky part.

In the Fall of 2009 HHKB started playing Danger Zone, a fun game if you have about 2 hours of free time. But like most good games it had to be tweaked, so now instead of just tossing pong balls across a table you had to take a drink from your cup every third throw (or every throw) to speed the game up. This worked famously and the game has been a hit ever since!

Danger Flip!

Our latest game was brought to us from the brain of Seamus, Survivor Quarters is just what it sounds like. It combines quarters (or You Got Served) with Survivor Flip Cup. Basically 4 players are standing around one shot glass and have to knock their three quarters into the glass before anyone else. The person who comes in last is eliminated. That person's quarters are then redistributed to the remaining 3 players, while the losing player puts down a pint of beer. The game then continues thusly until there is one grand Survivor who has not been served! This is a great, glorious and addictive game!

So there you have it, the newest HHKB invented drinking game. Are you interested in getting down? I know that you are!
